Dear Potential Hiring Manager,

My name is Chau Mai. It is a blessing for me to have caught this opportunity. I am currently a senior Computer Science student at Georgia State University and I'm excited to get to know you and explore many great opportunities.

As someone who is highly focused and attentive in details, I thrive on building quality work around real-world projects that could make impact in the community. I'm thrilled at the opportunity to utilize my technical expertise, leadership skills and programming knowledge.

I have had previous experience with Front-End Development using a combination of tech stack with HTML/CSS, Javascript programming language, Node.js, React.js frameworks and Back-End Development with Python programming language and its Django framework. I thrive to gain hands-on experience with real-world projects and in a professional setting to utilize the skills I have obtained during my years of studying Computer Science and from self-study.

I see myself as an effective communicator that uses communication to demonstrate or share ideas among others and use it help the team move forward quickly and as critical thinker with high energy and passion for learning, I could make great impact onto any project using time management and helpful ways to solve complex problems. With past teamwork ability, I am positive that I could bring value to the team with my knowledge and I believe this opportunity is for me to go far and will help me learn the necessary skills for my development in the industry.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I'm looking forward to learning more about any opportunity available and I'm very excited to leverage my unique range of skills, and I'm eager to demonstrate my commitment to developing real solutions with a positive attitude.

Sincerely,
Chau Mai
